

Reliable, Simple, Fast

The Sterling Fingerprinting Difference

Stay safe by increasing your confidence in who you're hiring. For jobs that require the highest level of trust, you need the highest level of background assurance.

That's where fingerprint-based background checks come in. They research the criminal and non-criminal fingerprinting history of an individual based on something far harder to fake than a name and ID document — a person's unique fingerprint history.

Sterling Identity is one of only a handful of organizations allowed to channel fingerprints directly to the FBI for fingerprint-based record requests. With an Identity Network of over 700 fingerprinting locations in all 50 states and Washington DC, we make running FBI record checks on your candidates quick and easy.
